Description :

Prsentation de l'diteur'I write this sitting in the kitchen sink' is the first line of this timeless, witty and enchanting novel about growing up. Cassandra Mortmain lives with her bohemian and impoverished family in a crumbling castle in the middle of nowhere. Her journal records her life with her beautiful, bored sister, Rose, her fadingly glamorous stepmother, Topaz, her little brother Thomas and her eccentric novelist father who suffers from a financially crippling writer's block. However, all their lives are turned upside down when the American heirs to the castle arrive and Cassandra finds herself falling in love for the first time.Revue de presse"This book has one of the most charismatic narrators I've ever met" (J. K. Rowling)"The appeal of the book is that of a time of innocence . . . When a girl of 17 could still be all but untouched by sexuality. At the same time it captures the pangs of growing up and unrequited first love." (Observer)"A book for everyone who is young, poor, fed up and yearning for something exciting to happen" (Irish Times)Prsentation de l'diteur'I write this sitting in the kitchen sink' is the first line of this timeless, witty and enchanting novel about growing up.
