Description :

Prsentation de l'diteur"Fast-paced, well-written and full of angst, PERFIDITAS was a very entertaining read!" History UndressedCaptain Carina Mitela of the Praetorian Guard Special Forces is in trouble one colleague tries to knife her and another sets a trap to incriminate her in a conspiracy to topple the government of Roma Nova. Founded sixteen hundred years ago by Roman dissidents and ruled by women, Roma Nova, the scene of this action adventure story, is in meltdown. Proscribed and operating illegally, Carina risks being terminated by both security services and conspirators. Seeking help from a not quite legal friend could wreck her marriage to the enigmatic Conrad. Betrayal mounts on betrayal. Is Carina strong enough to choose between being a great criminal or a great counterspy, and between two men? And can she save her beloved Roma Nova and her own life in making those choices? A gripping alternative history adventure, a conspiracy thriller with a Roman historical fiction flavour and strong female characters leading the action. Surely I'm not the only one to think that these stories would make thrilling movie material? Top 500 reviewer B.R.A.G. Medallion honoree finalist in 2014 Writing Magazine Self-Published Book of the Year Presentation de l'diteur "Fast-paced, well-written and full of angst, PERFIDITAS was a very entertaining read!" She completed a BA in French, German and Economics and thirty years later a MA in History. She now lives in France with her husband. A Roman nut since age 11, she has visited sites throughout Europe including the alma mater, Rome. But it was walking on the mosaics at Ampurias (Spain) that triggered her wondering what a modern Roman society would be like if run by women
