Description : Description du produitIt bites: New York hotels cost an arm and a leg, and Terri has flown from England to help plan her cousins wedding. The new in-laws offered lodging. But theyre a weird bunch -- and it isnt just that theyre Canadian! There is the sometimes-chipper-sometimes-silent Lucern, and the wacky stage-actor Vincent: she cant imagine Broadway casting a hungrier singing-and-dancing Dracula. And then there is Bastien. Just looking into his eyes, Terri has to admit shes falling for someone even taller, darker, and hungrier. Shes feeling a mite peckish herself. And if she stays with him, those bloodsucking hotel owners wont get her!

Prsentation de l'diteurTake a bite into fresh, fun vampire comedyread Lynsay Sands.Carly PhillipsNobody does vampire romance quite like Lynsay Sands! Tall, Dark Hungry is the fourth book in her insanely popular Argeneau vampire series and she brilliantly blends laughter with steamy passion in this story about a British lass who falls hard for a tasty immortal in-law she meets when she crosses the ocean to attend a cousin's New York wedding. Paranormal romance is hot, hot, hot! And Lynsay Sands is not only one of the pioneer authors of this subgenre, she refreshes one of the very best! Quatrième de couverture The taste of temptation Terri had flown from England to help plan her cousin's wedding, but paying for a New York hotel room was like giving blood! She had an alternative: the new in-laws were offering lodging. Of course, the Argeneaus were a certifiably odd bunch. There was the sometimes chipper, sometimes brooding Lucerna "vampire romance" writer. There was the wacky stage actor, Vincent. She couldn't imagine Broadway casting a more ravenous singing-and-dancing Dracula. And then there was Bastien. Of this unique cast of characters, he seemed the tallest, darkest and hungriest and his effect on Terri was decidedly delicious. Just looking into his eyes made her want to serve up her innocence on a silver platter. And she had a feeling the love feast was about to begin.
